2Q/1H26 Preview: Resilient Order Momentum to Support Further Earnings Upgrades and Re-rating Sustainability

Chinese CDMOs (+27.9%) have led the Healthcare rebound (+11.8%) over the past month, outperforming the MXCN (+7.6%), in line with our preferred positioning for 2026 (our note in Feb and May). Beyond sector rotation into healthcare from AI/Tech, sentiment has been underpinned by resilient 2Q fundamentals, including sustained demand across key modalities such as GLP-1 and ADCs, continued NHP price inflation amid robust domestic clinical trial activity, and incremental demand catalysts from active global M&A and growing adoption of AI-driven drug discovery (AIDD). Importantly, despite ongoing geopolitical headlines, we have observed limited tangible impact on customer demand or project execution to date.

CDMO performance has gradually shifted from an alpha-driven story in 1H26 toward a broader beta-driven recovery, although companies with superior earnings durability and GLP-1 exposure continue to lead the outperformance, including WuXi AppTec H (+22%/+59% in 1M/YTD) and Asymchem H (+29%/+70%). At the same time, the market has increasingly rewarded companies delivering positive estimate revisions and improving order trends, as illustrated by Pharmaron H, which rebounded c.54% in 1M following stronger-than-expected order growth (+30% y/y overall orders; CDMO +50% y/y).

We believe the sustainability of the recent re-rating will hinge on continued earnings delivery, including resilient order intake (see Exhibit 2), commercial project conversion, and potential upward revisions to FY26 expectations. We remain constructive on the sector, and expect the technology depth, execution track record, and global delivery footprint of leading Chinese CDMOs to outweigh FX headwinds (USD/CNY down ~5.9% in 2Q26, versus -4.8% in 1Q, see Exhibit 4) and geopolitical noise over the medium term. Ultimately, earnings revisions remain the primary driver of share-price returns, while valuation multiples are increasingly linked to the sustainability of earnings growth over the next 2–3 years. We revise up adjusted NP estimates across some of our coverage by 5%/10%/6% for FY26–28e and raise our TP by 5% on average.

Into 2Q earnings, we expect investors to focus on: WuXi AppTec (first to report on Aug 3rd)—GLP-1-driven backlog conversion (see peptide export data Exhibit 5), growth beyond peptides, and potential earnings upgrades; Asymchem—order intake across GLP-1, ADC, and oligonucleotide platforms; Pharmaron—scope for

Investor feedback and key things to watch in 2026 earnings

Exhibit 1: Summary of investor feedback, GS view, and key things to watch for CRO/CDMO

Company (Ticker, Rating)	Earnings Release Date	Investor feedback	GS view	Key things to watch (earnings / near-term)
WuXi AppTec (2359.HK/ 603259.SH) B+/B*	3-Aug	Investors are increasingly focused on the specific product and pipeline drivers that can sustain growth beyond 2026, given crowded positioning and strong share-price performance. While near-term execution has improved meaningfully, conviction remains tied to sustained multi-quarter delivery, particularly around GLP-1 backlog conversion and growth beyond peptides. Geopolitical headlines continue to drive share-price volatility, although investors generally acknowledge limited observable impact on customer behavior to date.	We expect 2Q26 results to further reinforce earnings visibility, supported by continued order execution, GLP-1 demand across both peptide and small-molecule programs, and diversified growth beyond GLP-1. A rising mix of late-stage and commercial projects should continue to support margin resilience. We also see potential for a guidance upgrade, which could further underpin share-price outperformance.	1) Guidance upgrade in 2Q; 2) Order intake trend and backlog conversion; include GLP-1 / TIDES contribution; 3) margin trajectory; 4) Growth diversification beyond GLP-1
Pharmaron (3759.HK/ 300759.SZ, B/N)	20-Aug	Investor sentiment has turned increasingly constructive following stronger-than-expected order growth in 2Q, particularly in CDMO (+50% y/y). Despite the recent rebound, Pharmaron remains viewed as a relative laggard within the CDMO recovery trade, with investors debating whether stronger order trends can translate into earnings upgrades and a possible guidance revision.	We see improving earnings visibility driven by stronger small-molecule CDMO demand under the CRDMO model. While margins may face near-term pressure from RMB appreciation and competition in clinical development, CDMO growth is tracking ahead of expectations. LLY's partnership strengthens Pharmaron's strategic positioning within the domestic GLP-1 supply chain, with longer-term optionality extending beyond its immediate revenue contribution.	1) Disclosure on commercial model and order volumes; 2) Timing of orforglipron China approval; 3) Margin sustainability post-prelims; 4) Broader GLP-1 related capacity utilization.
Asymchem (6821.HK/ 002821.SZ, B/N)	24-Aug	The debate has increasingly shifted toward peptide order visibility and utilization of the company's aggressive TIDES capacity expansion. Investors remain constructive on structural GLP-1 demand, although questions remain regarding utilization ramp, margin sustainability, and whether current valuation already reflects much of the medium-term opportunity.	We remain positive on operating momentum, supported by expanding exposure to peptides, ADCs and oligonucleotides. Visibility on peptide and oligo pipelines continues to improve, supporting ongoing capacity expansion and future utilization. We also see early signs of stabilization in traditional small-molecule demand, providing additional support to earnings growth and margin expansion.	1) Commercial revenue mix; 2) Utilization ramp and margin progression; 3) Visibility on GLP-1-related projects
WuXi XDC (2268.HK, B)	24-Aug	Following the YTD correction, valuation concerns have moderated and investor attention has shifted toward commercial execution. Key debates focus on late-stage ADC conversion, commercial-order visibility, and the pace of ramp-up at the Singapore facility as proof points for medium-term growth.	We continue to view WuXi XDC as one of the clearest beneficiaries of the ADC cycle. ADC demand remains healthy, supported by improving industry sentiment and increasing clinical activity. We see current backlog and project progression as supportive of growth objectives, while Singapore represents an important medium-term capacity and commercial expansion opportunity. Any near-term margin volatility during the ramp-up phase should be transient.	1) Orders / backlog conversion (late-stage ADCs); 2) Singapore ramp-up (utilization, initial orders) and margins during capacity absorption; 3) Client concentration & pipeline progression;
WuXi Biologics (2269.HK, N)	TBA	Investors remain focused on commercial execution and margin sustainability, with debate centered on PPQ conversion, commercial manufacturing ramp-up, and overseas delivery capabilities. Greater evidence of revenue quality and scalability remains necessary to support a broader re-rating.	We expect growth to accelerate in 2027 onwards as project onboarding normalizes and commercial-stage programs continue to ramp. Increasing contribution from milestone and royalty income should support structurally higher margins and improve earnings quality. We view execution on PPQ conversion, commercial delivery, and project additions as the key factors required to rebuild investor confidence.	1) New order momentum; 2) Capacity utilization; 3) 2026 revenue growth outlook.
Tigermid (3347.HK/ 300347.SZ, B/B)	28-Aug	Investors acknowledge improving order momentum, but confidence remains tempered by recent earnings misses, AI-related investment spending, pricing pressure, and uncertainty surrounding the CSRC investigation. The key debate is whether accelerating order growth can sustainably translate into earnings recovery.	We see early evidence of demand recovery, supported by accelerating order intake from domestic innovative biopharma companies and improving activity from multinational clients. Order growth accelerated through April-May, while pricing trends have begun to stabilize. Near-term margins may remain under pressure from legacy contracts and AI investment, but improving scale should gradually drive operating leverage.	(1) Sustainability of MNC China-only POC trial momentum; 2) RFP conversion and backlog build; 3) Results of the CSRC investigation; 4) Pricing recovery trajectory

2268.HK	WuXi XDC	Our 12m TP of HK$81.0 (from HK$85.9) is based on a 12-month forward P/E of 35x. Key downside risk: 1) Slower demand from weak biotech funding; 2) Increasing competition from global peers; 3) Geopolitical uncertainty; 4) Loss of key clients / late-stage projects; 5) Delayed manufacturing expansion; 6) Clinical development risk of the ADC market.
3347.HK	Tigermid	Our 12m TP of Rmb65.4 (from Rmb65.0) for the A-share is based on SOTP, with Rmb48.8 for core operations derived from a 10-year DCF and Rmb16.6 for investment assets by book value. Our 12m TP of HK$51.7 (from HK$51.4) for the H-share is based on a 38% discount to the A share. We are Buy-rated. Downside risks: 1) geopolitical risk, e.g. stricter US regulatory reviews or higher fees for clinical trials; 2) continuing order impairment; 3) continuing weakness in front-end demand and investment; 4) slower-than-expected global expansion; and 5) lagging market consolidation.
1548.HK	Genscript	Our 12-month target price of HK$17.65 (from HK$17.14) is based on a SOTP comprising: 1) life-science group valued on a long-term exit PE methodology (long-term average PE benchmark of 17x and discount rate of 10.5%), in line with our other covered CRO/CDMO names (e.g., Pharmaron, Asymchem), 2) Legend Biotech based on a risk-adjusted DCF analysis (9% discount rate, 1% terminal growth rate), 3) other two segments (ProBio, Bestzyme) which are based on DCF valuation (discount rate of 10.5% for both and terminal growth rate of 3%/2% for ProBio/Bestzyme), and 3) holding company discount of 20% on top of the SOTP valuation. Key risks include: 1) regulation risk and biotech funding downturn; 2) growing labor costs and challenges in retaining key talent; 3) risk from high revenue exposure to ex-China businesses.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
